Updates

Thank You, Georgene!

It is with great sadness that we are going to be saying farewell to one of our board members and longest termed supporters, Georgene Lowe, who will be retiring at the end of the month.

Georgene has worked in the area of Public Health for over 40 years and has been a leader in developing and implementing local efforts to increase access to health care and engaging key stakeholders and funders in supporting programs. Georgene has been the Coordinator of the Health Linkages Program since 2003 which includes overseeing the Children's Health Initiative of Santa Barbara, the Children's Oral Health Collaborative and County-wide Coalition in Support of Promotores de Salud. Georgene is skilled in creating and maintaining collaborative partnerships as well as in evaluation and oversight of program activities.

A long time supporter and collaborator of CCHI, Georgene will be surely missed by everyone who had the privilege to work with her, but we are very happy that she will finally be able to get some rest after the years of work she has put in!

Congratulations, Georgene!

Estimates of Eligibility for ACA Coverage Among the Uninsured

Despite historic coverage gains under the ACA, more than 27 million people in the United States remain without insurance coverage. Recent debate over the future of the ACA has led to uncertainty about whether and how ACA coverage will be maintained. This analysis provides national and state-by-state estimates of eligibility for ACA coverage options among those who remained uninsured.

WEBINAR: New York's First 1,000 Days in Medicaid Initiative

A year ago, then New York State Medicaid Director, Jason Helgeson, announced a new focus for Medicaid Redesign in New York: The First 1000 Days on Medicaid.

The initiative recognizes that the first three years are crucial years in a child's development and is intended to ensure that New York's Medicaid program is working with health, education, and other system stakeholders to maximize outcomes and deliver results for children.

Georgetown CCF is pleased to host a webinar featuring key stakeholders involved in New York's effort. Speakers will discuss the initiative and steps that were taken to engage stakeholders, as well as its progress to date. Join them on June 26th to learn more about this exciting effort and get your questions answered.
